Won't you take a moment right now to circle the dates of October 11 - 13 on your favorite calendar to remind you to plan for the Fifth Annual Fall Homecoming at Bryan University.

Make it a "double-feature" vacation by including the Bryan Bible Conference which follows immediately on October 13 - 20.

Here is a tentative program to stimulate your thought and planning.

- Fri. Evening Registration and informal fellowship
- Sat. 8:00 a.m. Breakfast on Johnson's Bluff
9:30 a.m. Business meeting
Noon Class reunions -- '37, '42, '47, '52 (or others)
6:00 p.m. Dinner with students
8:00 p.m. Installation of new alumni officers
- Sun. Morning Church services
3:30 p.m. First service of annual Fall Bible Conference

If you are a member of the class of 1937, 1942, 1947, or 1952, remember that this will be a special event in your honor.

News FROM THE CAMPUS

From the Admissions Office at Bryan comes the good news that enrollment prospects for new students exceed all previous records at this point. Because last year's enrollment was down somewhat, returning students will be fewer in number, but a projected total enrollment this fall should be near 275. The highest fall record was 280 in 1953.

The faculty lineup for this fall also shows definite added strength with at least seven new teachers, three holding doctorates, and the others being masters with work towards doctorates.

New in the school program is the shift to a semester system to be in line with most other colleges and eliminate one-third of the work and expense involved in registration and record keeping.

Curriculum additions have been planned particularly for the teacher education and the business administration departments.

Just plan to come and look over the new students, teachers, and developments at Homecoming time!

Project Report

The "Books for the Ironside Library" project is continuing to grow, but rather slowly of late. Let this be a reminder that we have just two months left until the conclusion of this year's project, so let's renew our efforts until October.

Only about 10% of the alumni members have participated this year. Won't you plan to make at least one substantial gift this year?

Gifts for PROJECT through July	$779.00
Gifts for BRYANETTE fund	33.50
Gifts for DIRECTORY fund	38.00

Total alumni giving $850.50

--Your gift is deductible on your income tax--

IN TRAINING Sandra Cue and Verena Bender (both '55) are room-mates at the Wycliffe Summer Institute of Linguistics. A present Bryan student, Glenn Graham, and the French professor, Frederick Bedford, are also taking the course. They are benefiting by the fellowship with missionaries including Rachel Saint and Dayuma, the Auca girl from Peru. Sandy expects to go to Pennsylvania for candidate school in August with the Unevangelized Fields Mission.

Grace (Coventry '52) and Carl ('56) Benedum are serving on the staff of the Sacandaga Bible Conference at Broadalbin, N. Y., as part of their candidate training for service in India under the International Missions. Grace is housekeeper and Carl manages the Snack Shop.

Charlotte ('58) and Charles (Spud '56) Willoughby have found opportunities of witnessing even while they are learning the language in Costa Rica. Spud is teaching English to a Spanish millionaire who is Roman Catholic.

Lois (Cartright '54) and Ernest ('52) Lee have completed a term of training at Jungle Camp in Ixtapa, Chiapas, Mexico, and planned to spend the summer at the Wycliffe Summer Institute in Grand Forks, N. D. In addition to learning much about carpentry, mechanics, swimming and canoeing, hiking and camping, one outstanding experience was a trip to visit a group of Tzeltal Indian believers. The 20-mile trip took two days by trail, but they rejoiced to worship one Lord along with Indian brethren.

ON THE FIELD Ruth Ann (Adams '51) and George ('49) Cone are moving in July to Bossembele in French Equatorial Africa to take on missionary pastoral duties. At their school in Bangui two native monitors passed government tests to be teachers in the elementary French schools directed by the Mission.

Wanda Lautzenheiser ('49), missionary to Japan, made a 16-hour train trip soon after Christmas to visit Bessie Degerman ('53) in Aomori Ken. While there Wanda was advised by the doctor to spend several weeks resting, to which she reluctantly agreed and is improving in health. Wanda plans for a furlough in November.

ON DEPUTATION

Naomi (Hildebrand '55) and Roger Walkwitz stopped at Bryan on their southern tour after missionary internship in Detroit. They are working on outfit, passage, and support to do linguistic work in the Philippines under Far Eastern Gospel Crusade.

Martha (Sheffield '55) and Dale ('54) Payne have traveled nearly 5,000 miles in three months of deputation work. In Colorado they were stalled for nine hours in a blizzard. They were also in Arizona and southern California with plans to travel on north to Washington. Their field is Brazil, and their mission, the Association of Baptists for World Evangelism.

Also accepted candidates with A. B. W. E. are George ('55) and Norma Haberer who have been visiting in churches of the midwest as they prepare for missionary service in the mission's printing department in the Philippines. They visited on Bryan Hill in July.

Wanita Mae (King '50) and Sterling ('51) Theobald, M. D., have moved to Crown Point, Ind. with their children. They have been accepted for service under the Evangelical Alliance Mission, and Sterling is working temporarily at the U. S. Steel.

ON FURLOUGH Joyce (Hirschy '40) deRosset returned to the States with their children last October to live in Evans City, Pa. Edward ('39) deRosset remained in Trujillo, Peru, to oversee the completion of a renovated building for the Evangelical Baptist Church. Ed joined his family in Pennsylvania in March.

Wilda (Chapman '48) and John ('45) Quimby made their way back to the States in July on a freighter from Tokyo, Japan. In addition to a recent project of the distribution of several thousand tracts, "What Must I Do to be Saved?" Quimbys were active in Japan in a ministry among the American service men through radio programs in several cities.

Mae and Ben White ('40) plan to return with their two children from Comayaguela, Honduras, in August to reside in St. Petersburg, Fla. during their year of furlough.
